Market Review

The FTSE ST All-Share Index fell 1.5% in September. By sector, Financials was the largest contributor, followed by Information Technology and Energy. Real Estate, Communication Services, and Industrials were the main detractors.

Singapore's August non-oil domestic exports rose 46.2% year on year (YoY), up from 24.1% YoY in July, with the increase partly reflecting low-base effect. Core and headline inflation increased to 2.2% and 2.3%, respectively. Singapore's manufacturing output grew 15.4% YoY in August, compared with revised growth of 6.9% YoY in July, with precision engineering and electronics leading growth.

Singapore equities continued to benefit from supportive liquidity conditions. Bank fundamentals, including loan growth and wealth management activity, also remained strong. The market also continued to benefit from supportive policy measures, including the MAS Equity Market Development Programme (EQDP). MAS appointed the third batch of EQDP asset managers in September and committed S$20m to enhance equities market making activities in Singapore.

In the property market, URA's Q3 flash estimate showed that private residential prices rose 1.4% quarter on quarter, accelerating from 0.5% in Q2, while sale transaction volumes fell about 30% quarter on quarter. The government is sustaining a high level of private housing supply through the Government Land Sales Programme.

The portfolio delivered a negative return of 1.8% in September. From a sector perspective, key contributors to the portfolio performance were Financials, Information Technology, and Consumer Discretionary, while Real Estate, Industrials, and Communication Services were the key detractors. Our overweight positions in Pan-United, MoneyMax and AEM Holdings were positive contributors to performance. The main detractors from performance were our underweight in Yangzijiang Shipbuilding and overweights in Hong Leong Asia and Food Empire.

Investment Strategy

We maintain our positive outlook for Singapore equities on a 12-month basis. We believe Singapore's strong macroeconomic outlook is supportive for Singapore-focused companies achieving sustainable earnings growth. Singapore's equity market activity has also picked up, as MAS appointed additional asset managers to run strategies predominantly invested in Singapore equities under the Equity Market Development Programme (EQDP).

Singapore's earnings growth is likely to improve due to low cost pressures and higher revenues, as Singapore benefits from the global demand and industrial boom for its high-value-added outputs, especially in the technology sector. Singapore banks, the largest sector in the Singapore equity market, continue to see strong inflows and higher fee income. The Singapore property sector continues to see robust domestic-driven demand.

We continue to favour companies that show a clear path towards improving shareholder returns either via capital management, the monetisation of non-core assets and/or share buyback programmes.
