Fullerton Singapore Value-Up - Class D (USD) Dist

October 2026

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Fund is to generate long term capital appreciation for investors.

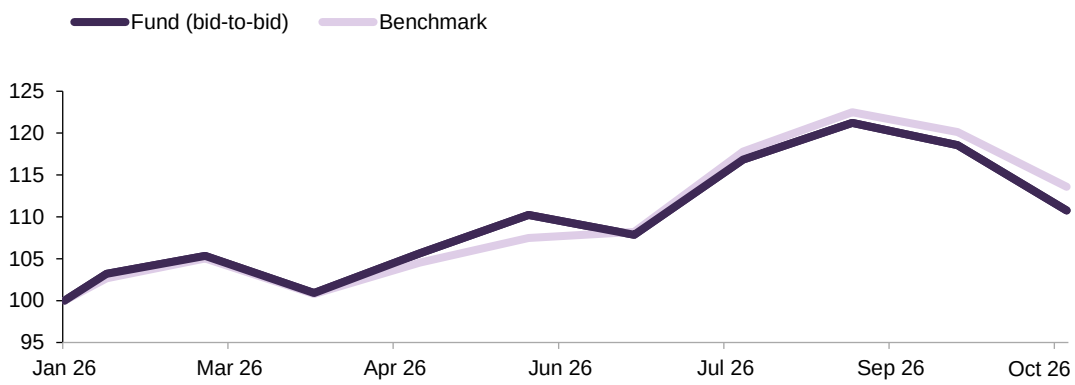

Investment Focus and Approach

The Fund will invest primarily in equities and equity-related securities listed on the Singapore Exchange Securities Trading Limited ("SGX-ST") to identify growth-oriented investment opportunities within the Singapore equity market. For the avoidance of doubt, the investment universe may include, without limitation, REITs, initial public offerings ("IPOs") and pre-IPOs.

The Fund may hold cash, money market funds, money market instruments and/or other liquid instruments to manage downside risks and for liquidity management purposes. The Fund targets to allocate 30% of its Net Asset Value into small-cap and/or mid-cap Singapore equities. The target allocation may vary from time to time depending on liquidity considerations and market conditions as deemed appropriate by the Managers.

The Fund may use Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs") for hedging and efficient portfolio management purposes. The Fund may also invest in other Authorised Investments.

Market Review

The FTSE ST All-Share Index fell 5.4% in October. By sector, Utilities was the largest contributor. Financials, Industrials, and Consumer Staples were the main detractors.

Singapore's non-oil domestic exports (NODX) rose 68.4% year on year in September, up from revised 46.1% in August, driven by low-base effect and marine manufacturing demand. Core and headline inflation rose by 2.0% and 2.2% in September, from 2.2% and 2.3% in August, respectively. Singapore's manufacturing output grew 3.4% YoY in September, compared to 15.4% in August, with precision engineering leading growth.

Singapore equities saw a broader correction in October as the financial sector faced selling pressure after they reported strong results. While the market will continue to benefit from supportive policy measures, including the MAS Equity Market Development Programme (EQDP), tighter liquidity resulted in selected profit-taking. MAS appointed the third batch of EQDP asset managers in September and committed S$20m to enhance equities market making activities in Singapore.

In the property market, URA's final Q3 statistics confirmed that private residential prices rose 1.4% quarter on quarter, accelerating from 0.5% in Q2. The government is maintaining a high level of private housing supply through the Government Land Sales Programme, which is expected to reach 9,320 units, 50% above 10-year annual average.

The portfolio delivered a return of -6.5% in October. From a sector perspective, key contributor to the portfolio performance was Utilities, while Financials, Industrials, and Information Technology were the key detractors. Our overweight position in DFI Retail and underweights in Wilmar and First Resources were positive contributors to performance. The main detractors from performance were our overweight in MoneyMax Financial, Hong Leong Asia, and AEM.

Investment Strategy

We maintain our positive outlook for Singapore equities on a 12-month basis. We believe Singapore's strong macroeconomic outlook is supportive for Singapore-focused companies achieving sustainable earnings growth. Singapore's equity market activity has also picked up, as MAS appointed additional asset managers to run strategies predominantly invested in Singapore equities under the Equity Market Development Programme (EQDP).

Singapore's earnings growth should improve due to low cost pressures and higher revenues, as Singapore benefits from the global demand and industrial boom for its high-value-added outputs, especially in the technology sector. Singapore banks, the largest sector in the Singapore equity market, continue to see strong inflows. The Singapore property sector continues to see robust domestic-driven demand.

We continue to favour companies that show a clear path towards improving shareholder returns either via capital management, the monetisation of non-core assets and/or share buyback programmes.
