FULLERTON FUND MANAGEMENT STRENGTHENS INVESTMENT LEADERSHIP TEAM

Singapore, 20 June 2017 – Fullerton Fund Management Company Ltd (“Fullerton”) announced changes to its senior investment leadership team, with the new appointments of Ken Goh as the Head of Equities and Vincent Chan as the Co-Head of Multi-Asset. In addition, Ong Guat Cheng has been promoted to Head of Fixed Income. The three asset class heads will report directly to Patrick Yeo, Fullerton's Chief Investment Officer (CIO).

Patrick Yeo, CIO, said, “Fullerton is focused on investing in and the strengthening of our leadership team, to ensure we remain well positioned to deliver value to clients, while navigating a constantly evolving market environment. As we continue to grow our assets under management, we are pleased to share these new appointments, which are aligned with Fullerton's vision of being a global leader in asset management.”

“Each of these colleagues brings a diverse set of experiences and backgrounds, as well as strong leadership skills to their new roles, to help drive new perspectives within their respective asset classes. I am confident that the renewed leadership team will work together to strengthen Fullerton's investment capabilities, while adding depth to the existing management team.”

Ken Goh will be joining Fullerton on 1 July 2017 as Head of Equities. In his role, Ken will lead and manage the Equities team, including members in Fullerton's overseas offices. His key focus areas include refining and articulating Fullerton's investment views and equity strategies, as well as to drive solid and consistent investment performance.

Vincent Chan will be joining Fullerton on 1 July 2017 as the Co-Head of Multi-Asset. He will help lead Fullerton's efforts in enhancing and managing the multi-asset investment proposition for clients. Vincent's depth of experience will help Fullerton expand its multi-asset offering for the wholesale channel, which includes retail as well as the retirement segments.

Ong Guat Cheng has been promoted to Head of Fixed Income, effective 1 July 2017; she will assume her new responsibilities from Patrick Yeo, CIO and the current Head of Fixed Income. Guat Cheng has been with Fullerton for 14 years, and has delivered a consistent and strong investment track record as the lead portfolio manager of Fullerton's local currency bond strategies. In her expanded role, she will lead the portfolio managers and analysts in Singapore and China, and have investment oversight of all fixed income strategies. Guat Cheng's promotion is part of Fullerton's succession planning, to manage the company for long term success.

Note to Editor:

Ken Goh

Ken has been appointed the Head of Equities at Fullerton. He will be overall responsible for leading and managing the Equities team in Singapore, as well as overseas.

Prior to joining Fullerton, Ken was the Managing Director/Chief Executive Officer of CIMB Principal Asset Management's Singapore office. He was concurrently the Regional CIO (Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand and Indonesia) and Regional Head of Equities. At CIMB-Principal, he established a strong investment track record and has been recognised by the Malaysia Lipper Fund Awards, as well as the Morningstar Malaysia Fund Awards. Before he joined CIMB Principal in 2007, he held various senior positions in APS Asset Management, MeesPierson

Private Bank, Allianz Dresdner Asset Management and Philip Capital Management. Earlier in his career, he worked at the Government of Singapore Investment Corporation (GIC).

Ken graduated from National University of Singapore with a First Class Honours degree in Business Administration. He is also a CFA charterholder.

Vincent Chan

Vincent has been appointed the Co-Head of Multi-Asset at Fullerton. He is responsible for leading Fullerton's efforts in multi-asset investment strategies, with a focus on the wholesale channel.

Vincent was previously the Asia Head of Multi-Asset Products at Schroders Investment Management, where he provided customised multi-asset solutions to clients in Asia. Before he joined Schroders in 2016, Vincent was with NTUC Income since 2013, where he managed the Asset Allocation and External Fund Managers teams. Earlier in his career, Vincent was with the Government of Singapore Investment Corporation (GIC) since 1988. He held various key responsibilities over the years, across departments such as Economics and Capital Market research, External Fund Manager, Economics and Strategy, as well as Fixed Income.

Vincent graduated from National University of Singapore with an Honours degree in Business Administration. He is also a CFA charterholder.

Ong Guat Cheng

Guat Cheng has been appointed the Head of Fixed Income at Fullerton. She is responsible for overseeing all fixed income strategies. Concurrently, she manages the Asian local currency bond and fixed income absolute returns strategies.

Prior to joining Fullerton in 2003, Guat Cheng was a management consultant with McKinsey & Co (New York & Beijing). At McKinsey, she worked with several financial institutions in the US and China, on business strategy, organisation restructuring as well as operations issues. Guat Cheng was previously an Asian Markets Research strategist in JP Morgan (Singapore) from 1994 to 1999, where she formulated emerging Asian currency and interest rate views, as well as trading strategy recommendations.

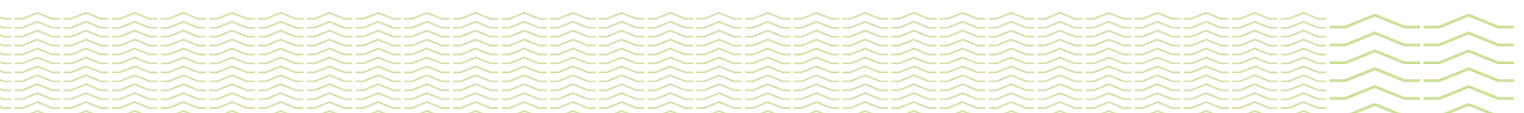

Guat Cheng received her MBA from Columbia Business School in 2000, and graduated from Nanyang Technological University with a First Class Honours Degree in Business (Financial Analysis). She is also a CFA charterholder.
